School/Work Schedule Information

Council members will be required to attend weekly meetings and several other events throughout the month that involve leadership training, learning activities, networking, and community service. All Council members must stay on-site for the duration of meetings and events unless otherwise approved by a parent/guardian or adult council advisor.

As of now, do you foresee a reason preventing you from attending any of the meetings or events?

Yes No

If you answered "yes", please explain:

What other school year obligations do you have planned? Please include dates:

Youth Leadership Council Member Acknowledgement

I am aware that the position of Youth Leadership Council is an unpaid leadership position, and event planning meetings do not count as community service hours (unless otherwise stated). I understand that this position involves fundamental aspects of group facilitation, experiential learning, public speaking, fundraising and event planning. If selected as a Youth Leadership Council Member, I will support the Santa Barbara Police Activities League (SBPAL) and Youth Leadership Council (YLC) mission while carrying out the responsibilities assigned to me.

I also understand membership is a privilege that provides students with skills and experiences for a lifetime. I will be expected to adhere to a high standard of ethical conduct, both in and out of the council, and be willing to adhere to SBPAL's strict personal conduct policy.

YOUTH LEADERSHIP COUNCIL RECOMMENDATION FORM

Applicant Name: (First) _____ (Last) _____
Recommender Name: (First) _____ (Last) _____
Contact Number: _____ Email: _____
Relationship to applicant: _____ How long have you known the applicant: _____

This applicant is applying to be a Youth Leadership Council (YLC) member for the Santa Barbara Police Activities League. A YLC member is responsible for working with a group of high school students without constant and direct adult supervision. In addition, this position helps participants establish written action plans, develop special events, and work on leadership skill development. Participants in this position are called on to be role models, group facilitators, conflict managers, and leaders striking to find a balance between fun and educational activities.

1) Does this applicant take direction well, and do they know when to exercise independent judgment and initiative?

2) YLC has a diverse group of high school students from around Santa Barbara. YLC members are required to facilitate groups with other students and interact with adults as peers. Does this applicant possess the communication skills to interact with such an audience?

3) YLC Council members often have to be creative and work with limited time and resources. Is this applicant resourceful and good with time management?
